Announcement

Student Award in Clinical Ethics

Desiree Ifft

The Association of Schools and Colleges of Optometry and its Ethics Educators Special Interest Group are pleased to announce Molly Spatcher, OD, as the winner of the 2015 Student Award in

Molly Spatcher, OD

Clinical Ethics. This annual national award, sponsored by International Vision Expo, provides the winner with $1,000 and a commemorative plaque.

Dr. Spatcher wrote her winning essay, "Going Nuclear: An Ethical Dilemma in Optometric Care," while she was a fourth-year student (Class of 2015) at New England College of Optometry.

INTERNATIONAL VISION EXPO & CONFERENCE

Industry News